

CUSTOM ARTWORK & PRINT AUTHORIZATION AGREEMENT

By submitting artwork, logos, images, designs, text, or other content for reproduction through StudioBySix, the customer represents and warrants that they own the rights to the submitted materials or have obtained all necessary permissions, licenses, and authorizations for reproduction and use.

The customer accepts full responsibility for any copyright, trademark, licensing, intellectual property, or ownership claims arising from the submitted artwork.

StudioBySix does not independently verify ownership rights for customer supplied artwork and relies on the customer's representation that they possess the legal authority to reproduce the materials submitted.

The customer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless StudioBySix, Marketing by 6°, its owners, employees, contractors, and affiliates from any claims, damages, liabilities, costs, or legal expenses resulting from the reproduction of customer supplied artwork.

StudioBySix reserves the right to refuse any artwork or project for any reason, including potential copyright, trademark, licensing, offensive content, or legal concerns.

Submission of artwork and approval of a project constitutes acceptance of these terms.
